A heavy frost was reported in Nebraska May 2d. There will be another frost in that State in November.

The city council did the proper thing in re-electing Charles F. Swift as a cemetery trustee. He has served faithfully and well in that capacity, and his election was a rebuke to the attempt to carry politics into all the departments of the city.

Mr. Fernald, did you promise the Bangor crowd that if elected you would do all you could to do away with jail sentences as the penalty for liquor selling? Did you say so? Please answer, yes or no.—Lisbon Enterprise.

The Portland Argus also brought this question, with some insistence, to Mr. Fernald's attention, but failed to get an answer. Does silence give consent?

We were informed by telephone yesterday that Brooks had raised $2,000 for the purchase of fire apparatus. We expected as much, and last week said, in connection with the recent fire and the need for fire protection in that progressive town, "that something will be done and at no distant day." It was a safe prediction.

It looks to an outsider as if the best way to settle the super-heated contest over the Congressional nomination in the second district would be to trot out a dark horse; and if that horse should bear the name of Hon. William T. Cobb we believe the district, the State and the nation would have occasion to rejoice at the outcome. Maine would then contribute to Congress her third ex-Governor, and a man well equipped in every way to maintain the prestige the State has so long held in the National Capitol.

Probably many of our readers will recall Thomas W. Lawson's exploitation of Yukon mining stock, and perhaps some may have invested in it. The Chicago News, which refused the business, says it would have been impossible to sell this stock without newspaper advertising since it was not handled by brokers of known responsibility connected with reputable stock exchanges. "Although the advertisements had practically guaranteed that the price of the stock would advance within a day or two," says the News, "to not less than $10 and probably to $15, within twenty-four hours of the flotation the quotation had dropped to 4 5/8. Today the stock was quoted at 4 7/8."

The Belfast correspondent of the Bangor Commercial disclosed an "open secret" when he announced in the Tuesday evening edition that E. F. Hanson was a candidate for the Democratic nomination for sheriff of Waldo county. Why the candidate himself has been proclaiming that fact for weeks upon every occasion; and in his travels about the county, "under the auspices of the Waldo County Chamber of Commerce," a creation of his own which died at birth, he has had that end in view. Having succeeded in forcing himself upon the Democratic party in Belfast, much to the disgust and discomfiture of the better element of that party, he is now attempting to Hanesize the county. It is a case of the man seeking the office—for revenue only.

Two gubernatorial candidates recently visited Aroostook county and the manner of their going was characteristic. Candidate Fernald was accompanied by Mr. Ricker and a newspaper reporter; candidate Haines was unattended and unheralded. The Presque Isle Star-Herald is of the opinion that Mr. Haines made much the better impression, and says:

It has apparently been assumed because of the frequent and loud reiterations of a few Fernald boomers that this county would be counted in the Fernald column, but to our mind this is an entirely erroneous view. The Republicans of Aroostook, as a rule, are counted with the Republicans of the other eastern counties, and these are practically unanimous for Haines. The Waterville candidate made many friends here the last week and his fair and honest campaign secured him much support from those to whom he was personally unknown. Aroostook will be a very considerable help to Mr. Haines in securing the nomination that awaits him in Bangor June 30th.

Waldo county was to the front in the Republican third district congressional convention. Hon. Ellery Bowden of Winterport was the efficient presiding officer and made an excellent speech on assuming the chair; Hon. Lucius C. Morse of Liberty was chairman of the committee on resolutions, and the speech of the day was made by Orlando E. Frost of the Belfast delegation. Last we should be accused of partiality toward a fellow citizen we may say that this assertion voices the general sentiment of the delegates. Mr. Frost had the close attention of the convention from the first and held it until the close of his remarks. His illustrative stories, which brought waves of laughter, were pertinent, and he roused the enthusiasm of the delegates to such a pitch that when he called for three cheers for Hon. Edwin C. Burleigh, the candidate for Congress, they were given with a will. As Mr. Frost went on with his remarks it was interesting to note how the old politicians, to whom this was a new and strange voice from "Bleeding Waldo," began to sit up and take notice, and none were heartier in their congratulations than they.

The other appointments of the church remain as before. Seats are free and all are welcome.

The Woman's Auxiliary of the North Congregational church has postponed its May meeting until the third week in May, the definite date to be announced later. Miss Alice M. Kyle of Boston, Field Secretary of the Woman's Board of Foreign Missions, is to be in Searsport for the annual meeting of the Eastern Maine branch of the Woman's Board of Missions and is to be in Belfast, and possibly in some other Waldo County towns.

Blodgett, Supt.; at 3:30 p. m., Junior Epworth League, Miss Lillian Spinney, Supt.; at 7:30 p. m., evangelistic service in the large vestry. Tuesday, May 12th, Epworth League, A. E. Luce, leader; subject, "What will God give to his children?" Thursday, prayer meeting, conducted by the pastor. Seats all free and all are invited to attend these services. Knights of King Arthur Friday at 7:30 p. m. The services for the week at the North Congregational church will be as follows: Junior C. E. meeting this, Thursday, afternoon at 3:30; prayer meeting this evening at 7:30; topic, An Evening with Great Christian Characters; Castle North, Knights of King Arthur, Friday evening at 7:00. Morning worship Sunday at 10:45, with sermon by Rev. A. A. Smith, pastor of the Universalist church; Sunday school at 12 m.; meeting of the Christian Endeavor Society at 6:30; topic: Being a Christian in our work and our play; evening worship at 7:30. All are cordially invited to attend the services.

At the recent Maine M. E. conference Rev. Norman LaMarsh was transferred from Orono to the Foss street Methodist church in Biddeford. The members of this church have sent this message to Bishop Hamilton of Baltimore, who presided at the conference: "Give us Rev. R. N. Joselyn or give us nobody;" and unless he is allowed to remain the congregation declare that they will close the parsonage, withdraw their support from the church, and, as they cannot close the church, will discharge the janitor. There is no objection to Mr. LaMarsh personally, who is recognized as a fine speaker and singer, but his blindness is thought to impair his usefulness. Mr. LaMarsh has held pastorates in Searsport and Castine with much acceptance, and many friends will regret that this trouble should have arisen.

The anniversary of the Brotherhood of Andrew and Philip gave special interest to the services at the Baptist church last Sunday. In the morning the pastor took for his sermon, 1 Cor. 10:24, "Let no one seek his own but each the other's good," and showed by various references how completely the great apostle Paul was dominated by the principle of the text. Quotations from the same epistle indicated where Paul had learned to interest himself so much in "other's good." As for instance, "The brother for whom Christ died," or, "Be ye imitators of me even as I am of Christ." Paul had been in the school of Him "who went about doing good," who "came not to be ministered unto but to minister and give His life a ransom for many." If we would learn to become interested and useful in the welfare of others we must cultivate the spirit and copy the example of Jesus, just as Paul tried to do. The exercises of the Brotherhood in the evening were unusually interesting. A pleasant feature of the program was the chorus singing by a choir of very small boys. Wm. M. Black, U. of M., was expected to deliver an address, but was unable to reach here in time. C. L. Wright gave a short address on a "Successful Life" and handled the subject in a logical manner and commanded the closest attention of a large audience.

HERE'S THE PROOF.

But Besides Catarrh, Hyomei Cures Grip,
Coughs and Colds, Croup and AsthmaRead: If You are a Sufferer from Catarrh, Reason and Reflect.

"My wife and I will swear that Hyomei ever existed. I used to cough constantly at night, and had a dropping in the throat, which kept me awake a great deal. I raised thick phlegm, and was in a horrible condition. However, I am entirely cured solely through the use of Hyomei."

Dr. Philip Z. Hart, Laconia, N. H.
Reader, this is one of thousands of testimonials praising the marvelous curative power of Hyomei. If you are a sufferer, why not try it? A. A. Howes & Co. guarantee it, and will refund your money if it fails to cure. Hyomei is not a stomach nostrum; it is dry antiseptic and medicated air, and all you have to do to cure any disease of the nose, throat or lungs, is to breathe it in through the Hyomei inhaler. A Hyomei outfit, including a scientific inhaler, only costs $1.00. Get one today. Subsequent treatment is only 50 cents a bottle. Get one now. A. A. Howes & Co. take all risk. They guarantee it. 2w18The effect of malaria lasts a long time.

THE NEWS OF BROOKS.

Mrs. W. H. Rolfe is visiting friends in Boston.

J. W. Hobbs has had a crowd at his fire sale this week.

Miss Marion Reynolds is with Mrs. A. E. Chase for a while.

Eben Prime is repairing the buildings on the John Small place.

Leander Staples has opened his harness shop in the stable of E. C. Tasker.

Peavey Bros. have cut up a big pile of lumber at their place this spring.

G. L. Morrill spent Sunday with his family. Hugh, his son, is quite sick with a fever.

Rosecoe E. Webber has taken for a wife Miss Ethel Kenney, who is young and awful smart.

It is said that Mrs. W. S. Reynolds has bought the Will Emmons stand on Emmons street.

Misses Evelyn and Bessie Thompson, who are employed in Belfast, spent Sunday with their friends here.

Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Lord of Belfast spent Sunday with Mrs. Lord's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. H. Forbes.

Jennie McTaggart, as we used to call her, is here from Dakota to visit her people and the home of her youth.

The lots on our fire-rained district were surveyed last Monday for the proprietors by Messrs. Stiles and Belter.

Geo. Dickey and wife of Tyngsboro, Mass., have been in Brooks for some time visiting friends. They are both old residents of the town.

The insurance companies have settled with the parties who were burned out here, as we understand it, in a very prompt and satisfactory manner.

Mrs. Sarah Edwards has been confined to her bed by sickness for several days. Henry Cunningham has also been confined to the house by illness.

Fitz H. A. Bood called upon friends here last Monday. He was formerly one of our most prominent citizens and we were all glad to meet him again.

At the Good Templar Lodge last Saturday evening, in place of the literary entertainment, remarks were made by Rev. J. W. Vaughan, M. J. Dow and others.

Rev. J. W. Vaughan made a very interesting talk at the Union church last Sunday evening. People who do not attend these services miss something they cannot afford to lose.

Among the recent marriages is that of Perley Edwell and Eliza Simpson. They can be counted as of our very best young people and everybody is pleased with the match.

Geo. Roberts, who has been in Massachusetts for several years, having a position on the elevated railway, was here last week. He has rented his farm to Will Emmons for this year.

Oscar Dow, who it will be remembered, was here with the family of Henry Dow a few years ago, is stopping with E. O. Stautland for awhile. Since he left here he has been to sea and knocked around generally.

The rubbish is being cleared from the lots of the burned buildings and the owners intend to rebuild at once. There should be a nice block erected there. It is a question if the several owners will unite to do it. Still there are various rumors of combinations in the air.

Leander Staples, our harness man, went back into his burning shop for a valuable finger ring which he had left in his desk and which he prized from his associations and came near getting badly singed before he got it out again. He has a sore on the back of his neck to remind him of the risk he took.

Ira W. Bowden celebrated May 1st by returning to Maine from Florida, where he spent the winter with his family, consisting of wife, mother-in-law and two boys.

Mr. Bowden has spent several winters in the south and seems to enjoy the change, as his health is much better there during the winter. Mrs. Leonard of Belfast, who accompanied them, is hale and hearty and enjoyed the trip very much. It is fair to say, however, that some of the parties who went with them got sick of it and come home long ago.

The Intermediate school, Miss Sawyer, teacher, closed last Friday with a literary entertainment in the High school room. The program was as follows:

An incident of our recent fire illustrates the efficiency of the new departments of the present day. Mrs. A. J. Robertson of Newton Centre, Mass., formerly known in Brooks as Lizzie Dow, writes: "At 4 o'clock in the afternoon of your fire I received the scare of my life. Bert telephoned me from the office in Boston that he had just read on the bulletin board in front of the Globe office that the village of Brooks, Maine, was burning up, and I imagined you as all homeless and penniless." And this was when the fire company from Belfast had just finished their work of quenching the flames. When the burning of an insignificant little village in Maine is bulletined on the streets of Boston and known in the interior of Massachusetts miles from there before the flames are fairly subdued, it represents a perfection of communication that fifty years ago would have been deemed wonderful beyond expression. Especially when we understand that this was simply a matter of news and not the effort of individuals to communicate with their friends.

When you think of indigestion think of Kodol, for it is without doubt the only preparation that completely digests all classes of food. And that is what you need when you have indigestion or stomach trouble—something that will act promptly but thoroughly; something that will get right at the trouble and do the very work itself for the stomach by digesting the food that you eat and that is Kodol. It is pleasant to take. It is sold by R. H. Moody.

Insist upon DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. There are substitutes, but there is only one original. It is healing, soothing and cooling and is especially good for piles. Sold by R. H. Moody.
